Silver Question Kept Down at Cleveland.

A Diversion Is Made In Favor of Tariff.

Silver Men Are Elated Over Silence on the Silver Matter

They Regard it as a Sign That the Party Realizes Its Need of Western Support.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, June 21.—The eighth national convention of Republican clubs closed today. All week there were apprehensions of an embarrassing fight on the silver question but nothing was disposed of in all proceedings so quickly or so quietly as that matter.

The committee on resolutions had settled the question last night by deciding to report that the league had no constitutional right to adopt resolutions and its report to that effect was approved.

The silver men are elated. They say that if free silver was not adopted nothing else would be done, that it indicates that the Republicans concede that they cannot get along without the western states. It is well known that telegrams were received yesterday and today from presidential aspirants and leading Republicans in all parts of the country suggesting that any action on silver would be dangerous and these actions no doubt did much toward having the hot poker dropped. The free silver men all expressed satisfaction and the anti-silver men as a rule would not express any opinion.

The effort to divert the attention from silver to the tariff as an issue continued today. Speeches in the convention as well as at the banquet last night and elsewhere were all on that line. When the Tippecanoe and other local clubs went to the depot tonight to meet Governor McKinley, an Iowa band of Allison men headed the procession. There was every possible effort to make a week of silver agitation and in a big boom for tariff as an issue of the Republicans.

THE CHINESE LOAN.

American Capitalists May Secure It.

In That Event There Will Be An Unprecedented Shipment of Silver From the United States.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Officials of the Chinese legation say American capitalists who are negotiating in China to secure the loan of 200,000,000 taels which China is about to pay Japan, are by no means urging a vague or futile suit and that they stand quite as good chance of securing the loan as any other money representatives.

There is much interesting speculation as to the result of the loan. If it is secured by American parties it is said that the first result would be the shipment of an unprecedented amount of silver. But as China's bonds are payable in gold the ultimate result would be to bring back gold for silver paid to Japan.

It is pointed out also that the interest on the entire loan will not exceed $5,000,000 annually so that the Chinese customs receipts of $23,000,000 will readily meet the interest charges and provide a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds which will probably run for twenty years.

FRESH FROM THE 'SOD.

Two Young Irishmen Late Arrivals in Phoenix.

Among the recent arrivals in Phoenix are two young Irishmen, Messrs. Smith and Abern, who left the shores of the Emerald Isle for the first time six weeks ago. The former comes from Middleton, county Cork and the latter from county Mayo.

Both are students from Maynooth college. Mr. Smith is a graduate from that old historic institution and bears letters of recommendation from the dean of the college. Their object in coming to Arizona was to meet Father O'Growney now at Prescott and a former professor at Maynooth.

IN POLICE COURT.

Eight Delinquents Before the Recorder.

When the prisoners in police court yesterday were ranged before Recorder Jobs, he thought he was dreaming. He rubbed the spectacles he has been intending to buy and looked again but the prisoners were still there, eight of them. Two were Indians brought in for drunkenness. One was discharged and the other got three days.

Next on the list was H. Kent a 16-year-old boy arrested for disturbing the Salvation Army. There was no doubt about the disturbance but it was attributed to an effervescence of youthful spirits and the boy was dismissed with a stern reprimand and an injunction to turn from ungodly ways and inveigle as many of his companions as possible to turn with him. The boy promised to do it and went outside and ejaculated "Rats!"

Geo. Leonard, living in the southern part of town, was up for beating his wife and threatening to shoot her. He got twenty-five days or $25. He had more time than money.

There were four guests at an S. F. P. & P. box car. They were not hoboes. Two were carpenters at work on an unprofitable sub-contract and had resorted to the box car to reduce expenses. One was a waiter in a restaurant. He explained that he had a bad cough which troubled his roommate, out of consideration for whom he had left the room and gone to sleep in the car. The last man was a Swede, a late arrival, with a small sum of money upon which he did not want to encroach until he had secured a job. All were discharged.

AN ARIZONA IBEX

Discovered by a Miner in the Superstition District.

E. B. Chalk, a miner and prospector, came in from the Superstition district yesterday and reported the killing by him in the mountains of an animal which is believed to be an ibex. According to writers on natural history this animal is not represented in the fauna of the new world and is said to be confined to narrow districts in the mountains of Switzerland and Abyssinia and within a small territory in the Caucasus range. The animals in each of these localities differ slightly from those in the others, though sufficient characteristics are marked to prove that all belong to the same family.

A few years ago two animals said to be ibexes were discovered by a hunter about 200 miles west of Lakeview, Ore. The animal shot by Mr. Chalk had curved horns about twenty inches in length. Its color was a grayish white, in which respect it resembled the Caucasian variety, the Abyssinian and Swiss animals being a brown or fawn color. On his return to Phoenix Mr. Chalk will bring the head of the animal he killed. The conformation of the horns alone will show whether it was an ibex, for no other animal has similarly shaped horns except the goat, but in none of the varieties of the goat do the horns attain so great a length.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Miles Smith in Jail for Attempted Rape.

A Brutal Assault First Made With Intent to Commit Robbery.

Miles Smith, a colored man, is in jail seriously charged. He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Garfias for attempted rape. The reputation of the victim of the assault, Estella Fontenay, a French prostitute, robs the crime of some of its seriousness, in morale, if not in law.

Early yesterday morning the woman, a resident of block 41, was attracted by a knock at the back door of her house. She opened the door slightly to see who it was and the negro crowded in and demanded money. She told him she had none. He silenced her attempt to scream by seizing her by the throat with one hand, while with the other he turned out the light. She managed to free herself from his grasp and attempted to escape into the street. He obstructed her way, and picking up a stone used to keep the door ajar, he threw it at her with sufficient force to brain her, but missed her. He then caught her again and taking a knife from his pocket threatened that if she refused to submit to him he would cut her throat. In the meantime he had torn her clothes off. She pretended to comply, but when he released her again she made a break for the door but, however, not been idle. Her assailant caught her by the hair and dragged her back into the room. She screamed were heard throughout the neighborhood and the negro alarmed fled out of the back door. The assailant was readily identified and described by the woman and a search was continued for him all forenoon. Late in the afternoon a colored man informed Deputy Sheriff Garfias where he was staying and pointed Smith out to him. Smith attempted to escape, but the officer was mounted on his blooded mare, which has been of frequent assistance in overtaking escaping criminals. Smith was quickly run down and taken to jail. The woman appeared before Justice Johnstone early in the evening and made a formal complaint. Smith will be arraigned this morning.

The swimming baths have fresh water every day, and every convenience is therefore the pleasure of guests.

A HIDDEN BODY.

The Search for B. Muller Revealed Nothing.

The Canal Dragged a Distance of Three Miles.

Only Two Additional Circumstances Learned Yesterday.

The Missing Man Had Bought a Revolver and Was Seen Sitting on the Bank of the Canal.

B. Muller, whose strange disappearance from 427 West Adams street was announced by THE REPUBLICAN yesterday, is still missing. The search for him which had been discontinued at midnight, was resumed early yesterday morning and kept up until nightfall.

Only two clues were discovered, neither of much value in finding him either alive or dead. A janitor of the Salt River canal said he saw him, or a man who looked like him, sitting on the bank of the canal beyond the Five Points on Thursday morning.

The other clue was a discovery that he or a man filling his description had purchased a revolver at Talbot & Hubbard's on Wednesday.

Yesterday's hunt leaves little doubt that he is dead and the theory that he had thrown himself into the canal being generally accepted the canal was dragged for a distance of three miles below the point where he was last seen. It seemed hardly probable that the body could have been carried farther than that, though the current is quite strong.

The search will be continued today along the canal and if the body should not be found it will certainly be found tomorrow when the water is turned out.

The revolver story led the hunt in other directions. A man would not buy a revolver for the purpose of drowning himself, though he might change his mind about the method of suicide. The whole country along the canal for a distance of a mile or more was thoroughly beaten. It would take days though to make a complete search for there are thousands of acres of sagebrush and grease-wood in which a body might be hidden until searchers should fairly stumble over it.

His grief-stricken and lonely wife has given up all hope; she believes that he has carried out his purpose half expressed in his despondency during the last week.

REV. MR. DAVIS' RECEPTION

A Pleasant Evening at the Baptist Church.

The members of the First avenue Baptist church last night gave a reception at the church to their retiring pastor, Rev. S. C. Davis. Beside the members of the church there were many others in attendance and a very pleasant evening was passed.

A NEW HAY MARKET.

The M. & P. Opens Up a Field at Guaymas.

Owing to the liberal rate made by the Maricopa & Phoenix railroad there has recently been opened to shippers in the valley a market for hay at the port of Guaymas and other points in Mexico. This market has heretofore been closed to producers in this valley, on account of the strong competition from Kansas shippers favored by lower rates.

The Phoenix Hay and Grain company last night shipped out the first carload to Guaymas.

TOO MUCH OF IT.

Dun Alarmed by the Tide of Prosperity.

Fear That It Will Mount Too High and Fast.

Encouraging Reports From All Parts of the Country.

The Upward Movement Said to Be Due to Favorable Crop Reports.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 21.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: "From all parts of the United States the best advices obtainable tell of a rising tide of trade and industry which threatens here and there to mount too far and too fast.

The volume of all the business is by no means equal to that of 1892 as yet, though in some important branches it is larger than that of any other year. Influences of tremendous power contributing to the rise are the encouraging crop news and the confident replenishing of stocks which have been for two years depleted to the utmost.

A RASCAL RUN DOWN.

A Wife Deserter Located at Hot Springs, Ark.

OAKLAND, June 21.—H. F. Mannion, a druggist, for whose arrest a warrant was issued at the instance of his wife whom he deserted for a young girl, has been located at Hot Springs, Ark., where he is said to be living under the name of H. F. Bond.

A Mining Company Taps the Northern Pacific.

MILWAUKEE, June 21.—Judge Jenkins has authorized the Northern Pacific receivers to enter into contract with the Parrot Silver and Copper company whereby the mining company is to build four miles of track at a cost of $63,000. The track is to be built from White Hall in Montana.

The mining company is about to erect a smelter and agrees to furnish all the money to build the track but the receivers are expected to pay it back. This is done by allowing the mining company fifty per cent of the freight charges on material to the smelter on account and fifty per cent on ores hauled until the amount is paid up.
